The “Technical Manual for Construction Cutting Specialists” was written for the following target groups:

- As a basis for the training of apprentices in the construction cutting sector
- As a basis for the training of semi-skilled employees on fast track courses (trainees from other fields with construction cutting experience)
- Trainees from other fields without construction cutting experience
- Construction cutting companies and their clients (service providers)
- Operators and planners in the construction trade (building contractors, architects, engineers, etc.)
- Authorities, planning departments, the military, civil defence, etc.
- Suppliers (machine and tool manufacturers)

Please note, this book does not replace the CSDAA Training Manuals
